

Contents

Preface Krista De Jonge	6
Introduction Sylva Dobalová and Ivan Muchka	7
Introductory Lectures
Architectura recreationis: Lusthaus or Summer Palace, a Successful Building Type in Early Modern Europe Ivan Muchka	11
A Variation on the ‘Villa’ at the Bohemian Periphery: The Case of the Rožmberk (Rosenberg) Residence of Kratochvíle Ondřej Jakubec	28
Session I. From Solitude and Buen Retiro to Mon-Plaisir and Sans-Souci. Exploring the Theory of the Architecture of Leisure without the Palace
A New Monarch and a New System of Residences: Ferdinand I Habsburg as the Founder of the Network of Main and Occasional Residences in the Habsburg Empire Jaroslava Hausenblasová	46
A Palace Designed for Diplomacy: Atholl in 1532 Marilyn Brown	62
Two Cases of Reuse and spolia in the Early Modern Danish Architecture of Leisure Ulla Kjaer and Poul Grønder-Hansen	75
Italian Casini from Genoa to Rome as Central Models for Joseph Furttentbach’s palazzotto . A Common Thread Between Villa Saluzzo Bombrini, Villa Lante in Bagnaia and Villa Borghese in Rome Antonio Russo	100
The Venetian Casino: Form and Function Martina Frank	124
Orbiting Hluboká: The Case of the Schwarzenberg Hluboká Castle and the Ohrada Hunting Lodge Jan Ivanega	143

Session II. Tradition and Modernity. Defining the Palazzotto as a Spatial and Functional Type from the Late Middle Ages to the Early Modern Period.

- Small Residential Buildings in the Surroundings of Salzburg and Innsbruck from the Fourteenth to the Sixteenth Century: Nature, Rest and Lust
Wolfgang Lippmann 150
- Adeste Musae, maximi proles Jovis!* Functions of and Sources for the Emperor Maximilian II's Lustschloß Neugebäude
Dirk Jacob Jansen 164
- A Fairy-tale Palace: the Trianon de Porcelaine at Versailles
Mary-Claude Canova-Green 181
- The Art of Leisure at the Court of Ferrara in the Fifteenth Century: Social and Artistic Realities
Daria Churkina 188
- Architecture at the Prague Belvedere: Between Theory and Practice
Sarah Lynch 204

Session III. Decorating the Architecture of Leisure. Interpreting the Satellite's Decor between Politics and Nature

- Palazzotto* before the Palace. The Palazzetto Eucherio Sanvitale as the First Satellite Residence of the Farnese Court
Michele Danieli 216
- 'ANTEEAT VIRTUS VIRTUTEM FAMA SEQUITUR'. The Paintings Decorating the Apartments in the Chateau Troja in Prague
Martin Mádl 227

Session IV. The Palazzotto in Context. Exploring the Role of the Satellite in the Grand Design of the Residence and its Gardens

- La Barco* of the Star Summer Palace in Prague: A Unique Example of Renaissance Landscape Design
Sylva Dobalová 257
- Hunt, Amusement and Representation: The Viennese Hofburg and its 'Satellites' in the Seventeenth Century
Markus Jeitler 274
- List of Contributors 281