I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my teachers, Prof. Diamantis Panagiotopoulos and Prof. Andreas Vlachopoulos, for their invaluable guidance and encouragement throughout my studies and also during this research, showing me the importance of securing one's footing on the ground before looking upwards. I am very grateful to Dr Sylviane Déderix, Dr Sarah Finlayson, PhD Candidate Stylianos Perrakis and Prof. Apostolos Sarris for their input, discussion and advice. I also would like to acknowledge the financial support from the Graduate Academy of Heidelberg University (Graduiertenakademie der Universität Heidelberg) that greatly aided in the completion of this research, and the Foundation for Research and Technology (FORTH) for providing the 20m. DEM.

Special and dear thanks to my friends, including – but not limited to – Marietta, Stelios, Despina, Manolis and Katerina for their unwavering moral and practical support and assistance, both in good times and bad, which played an active role in the completion of this project.

Last but not least, I extend my warmest appreciation to my mother, who, both through her presence and absence instilled in me the goal and the determination to pursue this path, as well as to my dear wife, Josephine Manon Mahl, for continuously supporting, experiencing antiquity and art with me, and having my back; οὐκ ἐπράσσετο ἄνευ.
