INDEX I: Find-places and places of acquisition

The bracketed number preceding a place-name refers to the map at the end of each volume. The CMS custom of using inverted commas (quotation marks) for provenances which are alleged but not certain has not been followed below, the circumstances in this collection often being hard to simplify. For the sources of provenances and their degree of reliability see the Introduction and individual Catalogue entries. For many pieces the Accessions Register records simply 'Crete', 'Crete' or 'Crete, etc.', referring to (assumed) Cretan manufacture, although the place of acquisition (usually the place of purchase through a dealer) may have been Athens or elsewhere.
