

CONTENTS

Peter Attema – Günther Schörner

The Rural Foundations of The Roman Economy.
New Approaches to Rome's Ancient Countryside from the Archaic to the Early Imperial Period: Introduction 1

José Ernesto Moura Knust

Far from the Walls. Explaining Rural Settlement Dispersal within Roman, Mediterranean and Global Frameworks 5

Stephen A. Collins-Elliott

Measuring Rural Economic Development through Categorical Data Analysis
in Southern Etruria and Latium (400 BC–50 AD) 19

Peter Attema – Tymon de Haas – Gijs Tol – Jorn Seubers

Towards an Integrated Database for the Study of Long-term Settlement Dynamics, Economic Performance and Demography in the Pontine Region and the Hinterland of Rome 35

Alessandro Launaro

A View from the Margins: Interamna Lirenas and its Territory in the Long Term 55

Günther Schörner – Veronika Schreck

Production and Trade in Late Republican and Imperial Inland Etruria:
Integrating Archaeological and Archaeometric Results of the Val di Pesa
and Val Orme-Project 57

Anna Maria Mercuri – Eleonora Rattighieri – Rossella Rinaldi – Assunta Florenzano

The Archaeobotanical Study of Agriculture of Roman Peasants:
Skilled Farmers of the 1st BC–5th AD in Tuscany, Central Italy 63

Willem M. Jongman

The Voice of the Silent Majority: Archaeological Surveys and the History of the Roman Countryside 69